Tasting Notes: Introducing the debut vintage of our John Sebastiano Vineyard Chardonnay. Lifted floral aromas of honeysuckle and chamomile are complimented by subtle undertones of almond and nutmeg. Once on the palate, you're greeted by fresh Asian pear and generous textural weight that carries through to the end, showing light oak flavors as it lingers.

97 points Jeb Dunnuck:

"Readers looking for a quintessential expression of Sta. Rita Hills Chardonnay need look no further than the 2021 John Sebastiano Vineyard Chardonnay. Revealing a vivid light gold hue as well as golden apple and citrus fruits, some green almond and spice, medium to full body, and a lengthy, salty finish that keeps you coming back to the glass, there's also a touch of background oak here. This is just a stunning Chardonnay to enjoy over the coming 5-7 years or so."

94 points Vinous:

"The 2021 Chardonnay John Sebastiano Vineyard shows all the rugged intensity of this site. Crushed rocks, mint, graphite, dried orchard fruit and dried flowers all race across the palate. This is a fine debut."
