Tasting Notes: The 2021 vintage of the Peake Ranch Vineyard Pinot noir has alluring aromas of dried flowers, dark cherry, pomegranate, and caramel.

Vibrant acidity and raspberry flavors are immediately present. Abundant refined tannins create a pleasant mouthfeel that is luxurious and contains elevated fruit concentration.

96+ Points Jeb Dunnuck:

"A darker, richer, slightly more serious wine, the Pommard-like 2021 Pinot Noir from Peake Ranch Vineyard offers a great nose of red and black raspberries, flinty minerality, forest floor, and leather. These carry over to the palate, where the wine is medium to full-bodied and has good concentration, plenty of tannins, and outstanding length. It will be even better in a year or two."

94 Points Vinous:

"The 2021 Pinot Noir Peake Ranch Vineyard is a wild, savory wine. Dried red cherry, anise, dried flowers, leather, cedar, and tobacco all grace this super-expressive, distinct Pinot Noir. The 2021 is a bit rugged, but also very long on personality. Deceptively medium body, the 2021 has a bit of tannic heft."
